

Creating Resilience in our homeopathic community, the concept of Pods

Sunny Goddard, Dr Celeste Salter

teal@aurumproject.org.au

The Aurum Project was created to empower patients to use homeopathy confidently for their family's health and well being. From its inception, our collaborative approach brings to light the collective group knowledge.

In 2019, Research Pods were launched. Our aim is to assist members to come together and turn a great idea into valuable knowledge for their patients. The way we work together in this endeavour brings our relationships to the foreground. A Pod becomes much more than a content generator. Through our evolution with Research Pods, we realised The Aurum Project is a Teal Organisation.

Becoming aware of who we are and learning from others in the international Teal space, is helping us evolve further.

The key concepts and connections for The Aurum Project are shown in the image.

